The North Pole, December

A jolly greeting to you from the North Pole! Christmas is fast approaching, and we're all hard at work preparing for the big night! You surely know that every December 25th I visit children around the world, spreading holiday cheer. But did you know I make other, special trips for children just like you?

I've only sent this message to a special group of kids around the world- the kids of nurses, doctors, and other medical professionals. I know sometimes your mom or dad can't be home on Christmas Day because they're working- doing their best to help others. Christmas is about family, and even though your mom or dad will be working hard on the 25th, I want your whole family to have a very special Christmas morning- together.

With that in mind, my elves have helped me set up a few special deliveries just for you. You've been scheduled for delivery on:

- ☐ December 23
- ☐ December 24
- ☐ December 26
- ☐ December 27
- ☐ Other: _____

Always remember, Christmas isn't about a box on the calendar, but the feeling we keep in our hearts. Thank you for being such great children, and sharing your moms and dads with us all when we need them the most.

Merry Christmas!

R Kringle
